1. About this Privacy Notice

This Privacy Notice, together with our Privacy Statements, explains how Bank of Melbourne, a part of Westpac Banking Corporation and its Australian related body corporates (Westpac Group, we, us, our) handles and manages personal information we collect about third parties (in particular, individuals associated with them) that provide, or are seeking to provide, products and/or services to, or on behalf of Bank of Melbourne and/or engage with Bank of Melbourne as part of Bank of Melbourne's operations and are:

1. individuals; or
2. individuals associated with a Third Party entity, such as officers, employees, agents and customers (related individuals).

(each known as a Third Party and examples of such are described below)

In the case of conflict between our Privacy Statements and this Privacy Notice, the terms of this Privacy Notice will prevail as regards to each Third Party. Where the context requires, references in the Privacy Statements to "Customer, "you" or "your" should be read as including a Third Party as defined in this Privacy Notice.

In this Privacy Notice, a Third Party may include:

- A related individual of an entity that holds an Australian Credit Licence (ACL) and acts as an intermediary between lenders and mortgage brokers for the referral of potential credit applications to lenders and provision of accreditation to lenders and quality assurance services to mortgage brokers (Aggregator);
- an individual or a related individual of an entity who is, or proposes to carry on the business of:
 - providing credit assistance to prospective borrowers in relation to credit contracts secured by mortgages and commercial and equipment loans offered by Bank of Melbourne; or
 - arranging insurance for Bank of Melbourne in relation to a prospective borrower or customer of a Bank of Melbourne credit product,
(each a Broker or Credit Assistant);
- a related individual of an entity that is a registered charity to which Bank of Melbourne employees can elect to donate and which does not have a contractual arrangement with Bank of Melbourne (Charitable Party);
- an individual that provides financial advice on Bank of Melbourne products (Financial Adviser);
- a related individual of an entity that acts as the intermediary between two parties in a financial transaction for Bank of Melbourne (Financial Intermediary);
- an individual or a related individual (who may be accredited or not accredited with Bank of Melbourne) who refers business to Bank of Melbourne or our authorised representative and/or introduces borrowers to Bank of Melbourne (Referrer);
- an individual or a related individual of an entity that is sponsored by Bank of Melbourne or our authorised representative, or sponsors Bank of Melbourne, as the case may be (Sponsorship Party);
- any other individual or related individual of an entity providing services and engaging with Bank of Melbourne as part of Bank of Melbourne's operations or in a specific transaction and any related individuals of entities from time to time referred to as 'non-suppliers' (Other TP);
- any related individual who is not an authorised representative in their own right and is employed or contracted by an authorised representative (including RAMS franchisee) and Bank of Melbourne collects and handles their personal information for its operations (Administrative Assistant); and
- otherwise, any individual or related individual of an entity that enters into an agreement to provide products and/or services to Bank of Melbourne or our authorised representative (Supplier).

2. Your obligations when sharing the personal information of other individuals (including any related individuals)

Before you provide another person's personal information to us that relates to your ongoing performance of your activities you must:

- make them aware that you will be doing this;
- make them aware of the contents of this Privacy Notice and any other relevant privacy notices and that we will collect, use and share their personal information in accordance with this Privacy Notice and our Privacy Statements; and
- obtain their consent to the collection and use of their personal information for the purposes outlined in this Privacy Notice.

3. Sensitive information

By providing us with any of your sensitive information as specifically noted in this Privacy Notice, you consent to our collection, use and disclosure of that sensitive information in accordance with and as set out in this Privacy Notice and our Privacy Statements.

You have the right to withdraw your consent for our collection, use and disclosure of your sensitive information at any time by contacting us using the details in section 14. However, if you withdraw your consent for our collection, use and disclosure of your sensitive information we will no longer be able to commence or continue your engagement as a Third Party, as the case may be.

4. You do not need to provide us with your personal or sensitive information

You may choose not to provide us with your personal information or sensitive information we refer to in this Privacy Notice and our Privacy Statements. However, if you choose not to provide us with the personal and/or sensitive information we reasonably request from you or fail to provide adequate personal information, we may be unable to commence or continue your engagement as a Third Party, as the case may be.

5. Where to obtain a copy of this Privacy Notice

You can download a copy of this Privacy Notice and our Privacy Statement and/or view our Privacy Notice and Privacy Statements online or contact us and request a copy of either or both of them.
