Important Information

A Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) is an information document. Its purpose is to provide you with enough information so that you can decide if the product will meet your needs. A PDS is also a tool for comparing the features of other products you may be considering. If you have any questions about this product, please contact us on any of the numbers listed at the back of this PDS.

This PDS relates to Range Forward Contracts (RFCs) issued by Westpac Banking Corporation and offered through its Bank of Melbourne division ("Bank of Melbourne, we, us, our"). A RFC is a sophisticated financial product requiring a good understanding of the way foreign exchange contracts and markets work. You should read and consider all sections of this PDS carefully before making a decision about the suitability of this product for you. You may also wish to obtain independent expert advice.

If you decide to enter into a RFC, you should keep a copy of this PDS and any associated documentation. You should also promptly tell us if at any time you experience any financial difficulty.

The meaning of some terms in this PDS (indicated by using a capital letter at the beginning of the term) is included in the Glossary on page 13.

The information set out in this PDS is general in nature. It has been prepared without taking into account your objectives, financial situation or needs. Because of this, you should consider its appropriateness having regard to your objectives, financial situation and needs. By providing this PDS, Bank of Melbourne does not intend to provide financial advice or any financial recommendations.

Information relating to RFCs that is not materially adverse may change from time to time.

The information in this PDS may be updated and made available to you on our website at www.bankofmelbourne.com.au. We will provide you with a paper copy of any updated information posted on our website on request without charge. If there is a change to information relating to RFCs that is materially adverse, we will (depending on the nature of the change or event) notify you within three months of the change or event and will issue a replacement or supplementary PDS where required.

This PDS, and any invitation to apply for a RFC that this PDS relates to, is intended for retail clients in Australia only. Distribution of it in jurisdictions outside Australia may be restricted by law and persons who come into possession of it, who are not in Australia, should seek advice. If you are in Australia and have received it electronically, we will give you a paper copy on request, without charge. To obtain a copy, refer to the contact details listed at the back of this PDS.

Range Forward Contract (RFC)

What is a RFC?

A RFC is an agreement with Bank of Melbourne that provides protection against unfavourable exchange rate movements by setting a Floor Rate or Ceiling Rate (depending on your underlying exposure) at which you can exchange one currency for another. At the same time it provides you with an ability to participate in any favourable exchange rate movements to a pre-agreed level.

A RFC may be useful in managing the currency risk associated with exporting or importing goods denominated in foreign currency, investing or borrowing overseas, repatriating profits, converting foreign currency denominated dividends, or settling other foreign currency contractual arrangements.

How do RFCs work?

When you enter into a RFC, you nominate the two currencies to be exchanged. These currencies are known as the Currency Pair and must be acceptable to Bank of Melbourne.

You will also nominate either a Floor Rate or a Ceiling Rate. Where you set the Floor Rate Bank of Melbourne will determine the Ceiling Rate for you and where you set the Ceiling Rate Bank of Melbourne will determine the Floor Rate for you.

Whether you specify the Floor Rate or the Ceiling Rate will generally depend on whether you are making or receiving a payment in a foreign currency. The rate you specify (either the Floor Rate or Ceiling Rate) will usually be your level of exchange rate protection, although you can nominate either rate.

On the Maturity Date the possible outcomes under a RFC are:

- if the Market Foreign Exchange Rate at the Cut-Off Time is at or below the Floor Rate, the Currency Pair must be exchanged with Bank of Melbourne at the Floor Rate.
- if the Market Foreign Exchange Rate at the Cut-Off Time is at or above the Ceiling Rate, the Currency Pair must be exchanged with Bank of Melbourne at the Ceiling Rate.
- if the Market Foreign Exchange Rate at the Cut-Off Time is between the Floor Rate and the Ceiling Rate, you have no obligation to exchange any currency. You can choose to separately exchange your currency at the prevailing Market Foreign Exchange Rate if you wish to do so.

How do we monitor the exchange rate?

We will monitor the relevant foreign exchange markets to determine your obligations as at the Cut-Off Time. We will advise you of the outcomes as soon as practicable.

The Cut-Off Time and the Maturity Date will be specified in the Confirmation that outlines the commercial terms of the transaction.

Are there any Bank of Melbourne credit requirements before dealing?

Before entering into a RFC, Bank of Melbourne will assess your financial position to determine whether or not your situation satisfies our normal credit requirements. Bank of Melbourne will advise you of the outcome of its review as soon as possible.

If your application is successful, you will need to sign Bank of Melbourne's standard finance documentation. This documentation sets out the terms of the credit approval and other matters relevant to your application.

What happens at maturity?

Depending on the terms of your RFC, on the Maturity Date you may need to provide Bank of Melbourne with either foreign currency or Australian dollars (AUD). You can provide foreign currency either by telegraphic transfer or by transferring funds from a foreign currency account/deposit. You must provide AUD in Clear Funds. On receipt of the funds, Bank of Melbourne will deposit amounts owing to you into a Bank of Melbourne bank account (in your name), denominated in the relevant currency. Alternative arrangements can be made with Bank of Melbourne's agreement.

Can I terminate a RFC before maturity?

You may ask us to terminate a RFC at any time up to the Cut-Off Time. We will then provide you with a termination quote. There will be a cost or a gain arising as a result of termination. If you accept the termination quote, we will terminate the RFC.

Our quote will incorporate the same variables used when pricing the original RFC. These will be adjusted for the prevailing conditions in respect of the remaining term of the RFC. We will also need to consider the cost of reversing or offsetting your original transaction. When doing this we take into account the current market rates that apply to any offsetting transactions.

Costs, Benefits and Risks

What are the costs?

There are no up-front out of pocket costs with a RFC. Once the Floor Rate or Ceiling Rate is set by you Bank of Melbourne will determine the other rate in order to create a Zero Cost Structure. When determining that rate, Bank of Melbourne takes several factors into account including:

- the Floor Rate or Ceiling Rate set by you;
- the size and term of the RFC;
- Global Foreign Exchange Rates;
- market volatility; and
- market interest rates of the countries of the Currency Pair.

While there are no up-front costs with RFCs, Bank of Melbourne still derives a financial benefit by incorporating a margin into the Floor Rate and the Ceiling Rate. This means that these rates will be different to the market rate prevailing at that time. In effect you pay for the RFC by accepting the Floor Rate and the Ceiling Rate quoted by Bank of Melbourne.

Key Benefits

Protection

RFCs provide you with protection against unfavourable foreign exchange movements between the time you enter into a RFC and the Cut-Off Time. This can assist you in managing your foreign currency exposures. On the Maturity Date, you will be protected at either the Floor Rate or the Ceiling Rate (depending on your underlying exposure) for the Contract Amount.

Coverage

RFCs are available for a wide range of currencies. Please contact us to confirm your desired currency is covered. Our contact details are set out on the back page.

Participation in favourable exchange rate movements

A RFC provides you with the ability to participate in favourable exchange rate movements that may occur to a pre-agreed level.

Flexibility

RFCs are flexible. Key variables, including the Floor Rate and the Ceiling Rate, can be tailored to meet your particular needs.

Key Risks

Variation / Early termination

Terminations or variations to your RFC may result in a cost to you – see the section titled “Can I terminate a RFC before maturity?” on page 5 for more information.

No cooling off period

There is no cooling off period. This means that, in most circumstances, once you enter into a RFC, you cannot terminate or vary the RFC without our consent. See “Variation / Early termination” section above.

Opportunity loss

You will forego any benefit of a favourable exchange rate movement between the time you enter into a RFC and the Cut-Off Time on movements beyond the Floor Rate or Ceiling Rate (depending on your underlying exposure).

The rate achieved with a RFC may not be as favourable as the rate you could have achieved with a forward foreign exchange contract or if you had not entered into any contract at all.

Counterparty and operational risk

As is the case with most financial markets products we enter into, Bank of Melbourne has performance obligations under a RFC. If we are unable to perform our obligations under your RFC, you may be exposed to Market Foreign Exchange Rate fluctuations as if you had not entered into a RFC.

Our ability to fulfil our obligations is linked to our financial wellbeing and to the effectiveness of our internal systems, processes and procedures. The first type of risk (our financial wellbeing) is commonly referred to as credit or counterparty risk. The second type of risk (the effectiveness of our internal systems, processes and procedures) is commonly referred to as operational risk.

You must make your own assessment of our ability to meet our obligations. However, as a regulated Australian bank we are subject to prudential regulation which is intended to reduce the risk of us failing to perform our obligations.

Further information about Westpac Banking Corporation, including copies of our recent financial statements, is available on our website at www.westpac.com.au

Currency restrictions

Delivery of some currencies may be governed by, or subject to certain legal and regulatory requirements and obligations. It is your responsibility to ensure that these laws and regulations are complied with and we suggest you seek and obtain your own independent expert advice in relation to such matters.

Use of agent and correspondent banks

To deliver some currencies (other than AUD), we may use agents and correspondent banks. We will use reasonable care in the selection of such agents and correspondent banks.

If the agent or correspondent bank fails to deliver the required currency when due, we will work with the agent or correspondent bank to effect delivery. If after such action delivery cannot be made, we will promptly return your funds or make alternative arrangements with you.

To the extent allowed by law, Bank of Melbourne will not be liable for any direct or indirect losses, claims, actions or expenses incurred by you as a result of the failure by an agent or correspondent bank to deliver the required currency.

Documentation and Confirmation

What documentation is required?

Master dealing agreement

You will usually need to sign a master dealing agreement if you want to enter into a RFC. This will either be an agreement with us or an industry standard master dealing agreement.

We will advise you which master dealing agreement you need to sign.

The master dealing agreement governs the dealing relationship between you and us and sets out the terms and conditions that will apply to all transactions that we enter into with you that are covered by the agreement. In particular, they document the situations where those transactions can be terminated and the way the amount to be paid following termination is calculated.

You will be provided with a copy of the relevant master dealing agreement and we strongly recommend that you fully consider its terms before signing. You should obtain independent advice if you do not understand any aspect of the document.

Documentation for certain restricted currencies

Other documentation may be required for RFCs involving certain currencies. Where possible, we will attempt to inform you of any specific requirements; however you are responsible for complying with any legal or regulatory obligations. We suggest that you seek and obtain your own independent, expert advice in relation to such matters.

Email or facsimile authority and indemnity

If you would like to provide us with email or facsimile instructions in relation to RFCs, we will require you to complete an email or facsimile authority and indemnity. The purpose of the email or facsimile authority and indemnity is to protect us against the consequences of acting upon instructions which may not represent your genuine wishes, but which appear to us to be genuine.

Other documentation

You may be requested to complete additional documentation before you enter into a RFC, depending on the outcome of Bank of Melbourne's assessment of your creditworthiness. We will inform you if any further documentation is required at that time.

What about Confirmations?

The commercial terms of a particular RFC will be agreed at the time of dealing. This may occur over the phone or electronically. Once we reach an agreement, both you and Bank of Melbourne are bound by the terms of the RFC.

Shortly after entering into a RFC, Bank of Melbourne will send you a Confirmation outlining the commercial terms of the transaction. You will need to sign this Confirmation and return it to Bank of Melbourne. This Confirmation evidences the transaction entered into under your master agreement with us.

This Confirmation will include:

- the Contract Amount;
- the Floor Rate;
- the Ceiling Rate;
- the Maturity Date; and
- the Cut-Off Time.

It is extremely important that you check the Confirmation to make sure that it accurately records the terms of the transaction. If there is a discrepancy between your understanding and the Confirmation, you will need to raise it with your Bank of Melbourne representative as a matter of urgency.

Examples

The examples below are illustrative only and use rates and figures selected to demonstrate how the product works. In order to assess the merits of any RFC, you would need to use the actual rates and figures quoted to you at the time. Note that the calculations below include rounding of decimal places.

Scenario 1 - Foreign Currency Payment

You are an Australian based importer due to pay 100,000 United States dollars (USD) in three months' time for goods bought overseas. At that time, you need to convert your AUD into USD.

Assume the current Market Foreign Exchange Rate is 0.7900 and the three-month Forward Exchange Rate is 0.7840.

If I do nothing, what exchange rate risks do I face?

If you do nothing, the amount of AUD you will need in three months' time to obtain the USD you are due to pay will depend on the Market Foreign Exchange Rate applicable at that time.

If the AUD/USD exchange rate goes up, the USD will become less valuable and as a consequence, you will need less AUD when it is time to obtain the USD. Assume in this example that the AUD/USD Market Foreign Exchange Rate rises to 0.8200, then you will pay:

AUD 121,951.22
(= USD 100,000 / 0.8200)

If the AUD/USD Market Foreign Exchange Rate goes down, the opposite occurs and you will need more AUD. Assume the AUD/USD Market Foreign Exchange Rate falls to 0.7500, then you will pay:

AUD 133,333.33
(= USD 100,000 / 0.7500)

How will a RFC change this?

Assume that you are unsure about the direction of the AUD against the USD and wish to not only protect yourself against the AUD depreciating against the USD, but also have the potential to participate in any favourable movements in the AUD.

You enter into a RFC to buy USD 100,000 with AUD in three months' time and set the Floor Rate at 0.7660. In establishing a RFC, the Floor Rate must be set at a rate below the current Forward Exchange Rate. Based on these details, Bank of Melbourne determines the Ceiling Rate to be 0.8000

The possible outcomes on the Maturity Date are:

- a) if the Market Foreign Exchange Rate is at or below the 0.7660 Floor Rate at the Cut-Off Time, you must exchange your AUD at the Floor Rate. You will pay:

AUD 130,548.30
(= USD 100,000 / 0.7660)

- b) if the Market Foreign Exchange Rate is between the 0.7660 Floor Rate and the 0.8000 Ceiling Rate at the Cut-Off Time you have no obligations to exchange your AUD under the RFC. However, you may choose to separately exchange your AUD at the Market Foreign Exchange Rate

For example, if you choose to do this and the Market Foreign Exchange Rate at the time is 0.7850, then you will pay

AUD 127,388.54
(= USD 100,000 / 0.7850)

- c) if the Market Foreign Exchange Rate is at or above the 0.8000 Ceiling Rate at the Cut-Off Time, you must exchange your AUD at the Ceiling Rate. You will pay:

AUD 125,000.00
(= USD 100,000 / 0.8000)

How can I change the range of outcomes?

You can change the range of possible outcomes by changing the Floor Rate and as a result the corresponding Ceiling Rate. Once the Floor Rate and the Ceiling Rate are agreed the possible outcomes on the Maturity Date can be determined.

When agreeing the details of your RFC you need to consider that:

- the Floor Rate corresponds to the maximum amount of AUD you will pay to meet your USD obligation. Note that the Floor Rate will always be set below the Forward Exchange Rate available to you at that time.
- the Ceiling Rate corresponds to the minimum amount of AUD you will pay to meet your USD obligation.
- a higher Floor Rate will reduce your exposure to a falling AUD/USD exchange rate. However, because of the Zero Cost Structure, the Ceiling Rate will be set lower.
- a lower Floor Rate will increase your exposure to a falling AUD/USD exchange rate. However, because of the Zero Cost Structure, the Ceiling Rate will be set higher.

Scenario 2 - Foreign Currency Receipt

You are an Australian based exporter due to receive 100,000 United States dollars (USD) in three months' time for goods sold overseas. At that time, you need to convert the USD you will receive into AUD.

Assume the current Market Foreign Exchange Rate is 0.7900 and the three-month Forward Exchange Rate is 0.7840.

If I do nothing, what exchange rate risks do I face?

If you do nothing, the amount of AUD you will receive in three months' time for your USD will depend on the Market Foreign Exchange Rate applicable at that time.

If the AUD/USD exchange rate goes up, the USD will become less valuable and as a consequence, you will receive less AUD when it is time to exchange the USD. Assume in this example that the AUD/USD Market Foreign Exchange Rate rises to 0.8200, then you will receive:

AUD 121,951.22
(= USD 100,000 / 0.8200)

If the AUD/USD Market Foreign Exchange Rate goes down, the opposite occurs and you will receive more AUD. Assume the AUD/USD Market Foreign Exchange Rate falls to 0.7500, then you will receive:

AUD 133,333.33
(= USD 100,000 / 0.7500)

How will a RFC change this?

Assume that you are unsure about the direction of the AUD against the USD and wish to not only protect yourself against the AUD appreciating against the USD, but also have the potential to participate in any favourable movements in the AUD.

You enter into a RFC to sell USD 100,000 for AUD in three months' time and set the Ceiling Rate at 0.8000. In establishing a RFC, the Ceiling Rate must be set at a rate above the current Forward Exchange Rate. Based on these details, Bank of Melbourne determines the Floor Rate to be 0.7660.

The possible outcomes on the Maturity Date are:

- a) if the Market Foreign Exchange Rate is at or above the 0.8000 Ceiling Rate at the Cut-Off Time, you must exchange your USD at the Ceiling Rate. You will receive:

AUD 125,000.00
(= USD 100,000 / 0.8000)

- b) if the Market Foreign Exchange Rate is between the 0.7660 Floor Rate and the 0.8000 Ceiling Rate at the Cut-Off Time you have no obligations to exchange your AUD under the RFC. However, you may choose to separately exchange your USD at the Market Foreign Exchange Rate

For example, if you choose to do this and the Market Foreign Exchange Rate at the time is 0.7850, then you will receive

AUD 127,388.54
(= USD 100,000 / 0.7850)

- c) if the Market Foreign Exchange Rate is at or below the 0.7660 Floor Rate at the Cut-Off Time, you must exchange your USD at the Ceiling Rate. You will pay:

AUD 130,548.30
(= USD 100,000 / 0.7660)

How can I change the range of outcomes?

You can change the range of possible outcomes by changing the Ceiling Rate and as a result the corresponding Floor Rate. Once the Floor Rate and the Ceiling Rate are agreed the possible outcomes on the Maturity Date can be determined.

When agreeing the details of your RFC you need to consider that:

- the Ceiling Rate corresponds to the minimum amount of AUD you will receive for your USD. Note that the Ceiling Rate will always be set above the Forward Exchange Rate available to you at that time.
- the Floor Rate corresponds to the maximum amount of AUD you will receive for your USD.
- a lower Ceiling Rate will reduce your exposure to a rising AUD/USD exchange rate. However, because of the Zero Cost Structure, the Floor Rate will be set higher.
- a higher Ceiling Rate will increase your exposure to a rising AUD/USD exchange rate. However, because of the Zero Cost Structure, the Floor Rate will be set lower.

General Information

What information we need from you

In order to enter into a RFC with you, we'll need some important details from you. Depending on the legal nature of your business (company, partnership etc) you will be required to provide certain documents and information to us.

Under the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing Act 2006 (AML/CTF Laws) it is a requirement that the account holder and all signatories to the account must be identified. So if you're opening an account for the first time this applies to you. It also applies to any account holder or signatory who is not an existing customer.

The identification requirements can be met by completing the Bank of Melbourne identification procedure which involves providing identity documentation to Bank of Melbourne. For information on documents required please contact any branch or refer to our website – www.bankofmelbourne.com.au.

If the account holder or any of the signatories to an account are not identified in terms of the AML/CTF Laws, the account will be blocked for all withdrawals, until they are identified.

If you are an existing customer, an account signatory (or any other cardholder), identification requirements may have previously been satisfied so you don't need to provide it again, unless you are asked to do so by us.

Banking Code of Practice

We have adopted the Banking Code of Practice 2019 (Banking Code). The Banking Code sets out the standards of practice and service for Australian banks to follow when dealing with certain customers.

If you are an 'individual' or a 'small business' (each term as defined in the Banking Code), the relevant provisions of the Banking Code will apply to the banking service described in this PDS and prevail to the extent of any inconsistency with these terms and conditions.

You can obtain a copy of the Banking Code from our website or any of our branches. Please let us know if you would like to discuss whether or not the Banking Code will apply to you. Our contact details are set out on the back page.

Financial crimes monitoring

Bank of Melbourne is bound by laws that impose regulatory and compliance obligations, including obligations in relation to the prevention of money laundering and the financing of terrorism, which are the AML/CTF Laws. In order for Bank of Melbourne to meet its regulatory and compliance obligations, we perform certain control and monitoring activities.

Upon entering into any RFC with Bank of Melbourne, you agree and provide the following undertakings and agree to indemnify Bank of Melbourne against any potential loss arising from any breach by you of such undertakings that:

- you are not and will not enter into any agreement with Bank of Melbourne under an assumed name;
- any funds used by you to enter into an agreement with Bank of Melbourne have not been derived from or related to any criminal activities;
- any payments received from Bank of Melbourne will not be used in relation to any criminal activities;
- if we ask, you will provide us with additional information we reasonably require from you for the purposes of meeting our regulatory and compliance obligations, including the obligations under AML/CTF Laws (including information about the source of funds used to settle a RFC); and
- you and your RFC with Bank of Melbourne will not initiate, engage or effect a transaction that may be in breach of Australian law or sanctions (or the law or sanctions of any other country).

You should be aware that:

- we may obtain information about you or any beneficial owner of an interest in an agreement with Bank of Melbourne from third parties if we believe this is necessary to comply with our regulatory and compliance obligations, including AML/CTF Laws;
- transactions may be delayed, blocked, frozen or refused where we have reasonable grounds to believe that they breach Australian law or sanctions or the law or sanctions of any other country;
- where transactions are delayed, blocked, frozen or refused, Bank of Melbourne and other members of the Westpac Group are not liable for any loss you suffer (including consequential loss) in connection with a RFC; and
- where legally obliged to do so, we may disclose information that we hold about you to our related bodies corporate or service providers, other banks, or relevant regulatory and/or law enforcement agencies (whether in or outside of Australia).

Foreign Tax Residents

We are required under domestic and international laws to collect and report financial and account information relating to individuals and organisations who are, or may be, foreign tax residents. We may ask you whether you or any shareholder, beneficiary, settlor or controlling person are a foreign tax resident from time to time, such as when you open an account with us, or if your circumstances change. If you do not provide this information to us we may be required to limit the services we provide to you.

Unless you tell us otherwise, by completing any application, you certify that any shareholder, named beneficiary, settlor or controlling person is not a foreign tax resident. You must tell us if you, or any shareholder, named beneficiary, settlor or controlling person is, or becomes, a foreign tax resident (unless an exemption applies, such as for shareholders of listed companies). Where there are no named beneficiaries (e.g. for beneficiaries identified only as a class) you must tell us if a beneficiary is a foreign tax resident immediately when any decision is made to identify and make a distribution to them. You may contact us to provide foreign tax residence information by calling 1300 725 863.

We cannot give tax advice, so please contact your independent tax advisor if you need help finding out whether any person is a foreign tax resident.

Telephone conversations

The terms of a RFC are usually agreed verbally over the phone or electronically over an on-line system. Once we have reached an agreement, both you and Bank of Melbourne are bound by the terms of the RFC.

Conversations with our dealing room and settlement departments are recorded. This is standard market practice. We do this to make sure that we have complete records of the details of all transactions. Recorded conversations are retained for a limited period and are usually used where there is a dispute and for staff training and monitoring purposes.

You will need to advise our dealer if you do not wish to be recorded. However, we will not enter into any transaction over the telephone unless the conversation is recorded.

Taxation

Taxation law is complex and its application to this product will depend on your particular circumstances. We make no claim that this product will provide a beneficial or appropriate tax outcome for you. When determining whether this product is suitable for your circumstances, you should consider the impact it will have on your own taxation position and seek professional advice on the tax implications it may have for you.

This document has been produced for use by Australian tax residents only. If you are not a resident of Australia for tax purposes and have entered into a RFC, you may be required to withhold tax on payments you make. If you are required to withhold an amount of tax on any payments you make as a non-resident, you are liable to gross up that payment such that we receive all amounts clear of any tax.

Privacy

We collect personal information from you to process your application, provide you with your product or service, and manage your product or service. We may also use your information to comply with legislative or regulatory requirements in any jurisdiction, prevent fraud, crime or other activity that may cause harm in relation to our products or services and help us run our business. We may also use your information to tell you about products or services we think may interest you.

If you do not provide all the information we request, we may need to reject your application or we may no longer be able to provide a product or service to you.

We may disclose your personal information to other members of the Westpac Group, anyone we engage to do something on our behalf and other organisations that assist us with our business.

We may disclose your personal information to an entity which is located outside Australia. Details of the countries where the overseas recipients are likely to be located are in our privacy policy.

As a provider of financial services, we have obligations to disclose some personal information to government agencies and regulators in Australia, and in some cases offshore. We are not able to ensure that foreign government agencies or regulators will comply with Australian privacy laws, although they may have their own privacy laws. By using our products or services, you consent to these disclosures.
